REMARKS.

TO THE CITIZENS OF UNITY :

It is with some hesitancy I offer you this, my first report, as your Superintendent of schools.

I hope you will not censure me too hard for the way in which I have superintended your schools for the past year. I have endeavored to give you a good clean and honest administration, and if I have failed to come up to your expectation, it is not because I have not tried. I admit I have made many mistakes, though I have, at all times, endeavored to work for what I considered to be for the best interest of our boys and girls.

Three years ago, while a member of your School Committee, we prepared a course of study for our town schools, some of our best teachers assisted us in this matter. The "Course" was not complete and lacked in many details, but gave a general outline of the work to be accomplished. The course of study is divided into 9 parts or grades, allowing the pupil one year or three terms to each grade, thereby allowing the pupil 9 years in which to complete the common school work. The "Course" takes up all the studies required to be taught by our State. The advantages of this system are many, among the most important are, each scholar must study all the common branches in their regular order; all have a uniform set of text books; all pupils in the same grade are virtually studying the same lesson from day to day, in all the schools throughout the town. When they have completed the 9th grade they are all prepared alike, having all had the same advantages, and are ready to enter High school on an equal footing. In connection with this, all teachers are supplied with a classification register, which they are required to fill out at the close of their respective terms, giving a detailed account of each pupil under their charge, stating just what was accomplished, the number of pages canvassed and giving out their next lesson for the beginning of the next term, so that the next teacher by referring to the register will know just where to take up the work, thereby saving at least two weeks time over the old system without the register and course of study. When you thoroughly understand this system you will agree with me that it is good.

It has taken some time to properly classify our schools, but I am glad to say that we have at last accomplished the task. The pupils who had completed their 9th grade work last spring were all given a written examination by myself and those passing satisfactorily were given diplomas, graduating them from the Grammar grade, and this diploma admitted them to the High school.

I hope my successor will continue this policy, as these diplomas mean a great deal to the boys and girls and will be greatly appreciated by them in after years.

During the school year just closed we maintained 30 weeks of school (thanks to our voters for raising the necessary funds). The year, as a whole, has been very successful and the children have made good progress. The attendance of some of our scholars has been too irregular for good work, this ought to be rectified. Parents should give this matter more attention and see to it that their children attend more regularly.

The schools have given more attention to writing the past year than for some years back. We have adapted the Whitehouse system which seems to be in general favor throughout the United States and which is a great improvement over the vertical system.

We have devoted some time to singing. I think our boys and girls who live in the United States, the greatest Republic on the face of the earth, should be taught to sing our National airs if nothing more. I should greatly favor teaching the rudiments of vocal music in our schools. It has been neglected too long.

During the year we held our teachers' meeting in the village, all of our teachers being present as were the teachers of Burnham, Troy and Thorndike. State Superintendent Smith was present and a few of the patrons were out. These meetings are of great help to teachers and if the parents would attend them and express their views it would tend to make our school work more satisfactory. We hope to have more of them.

What we need most in this town is co-operation. Let us look at this matter in the right light. Let us cultivate more interest along educational lines. Visit the schools, co-operate with teachers and school officials. Wake up and shake off this lethargy, stop complaining, fault-finding and gossiping; don't believe all you hear, but go to the schools, see what they are doing, investigate for yourself and we will accomplish a glorious victory. These boys and girls belong to us; let us give them the very best education we can, and give it to them in this town. It will be only too soon they will take our places and take over the reins of God in their hands. Let us be able to point to them with pride and say we educated them and in so doing, have given them a fortune, a fortune that cannot be taken from them.

TEXT BOOKS.

We have a uniform set of text books and most of them are in good condition. We will need some new ones to replace those that are worn out. During the year I made a complete inventory of all the books on hand and in the several school houses, and rennnumbered them in seperate groups, so we know just how many books of each kind we have. There are in all a total of 1139, some of these are out of date and may be exchanged to good advantage.

TRANSPORTATION.

Transportation is the hardest proposition with which we have to deal. Under our present system it is impossible to equalize it without expending the greater part of our school money be as conscientious as we may, we cannot satisfy all. I have a proposition which I think would equalize the matter to a great extent, will not take the space here to give it.

OUR FREE HIGH SCHOOL.

No doubt the most of you are familiar with our High school situation. Quite a goodly number of you were present and heard our State Superintendent Hon. Payson Smith explain the situation, and have had ample time in which to consider the matter. For the benefit of those who were unable to be present I will endeavor to explain it to you. Let them deny it who may, we have not for some years maintained a strictly lawful and up to date High school, though it was approved as such by our ex-State Superintendent simply because he failed to inspect the school personally.

Some years ago the school officials prepared an excellent course of study, and I presume classified the school, and had it started on a good foundation; but for some reason or other it was allowed to run down until there was no pretence made of following the course of study. After being sworn in as Superintendent, I went, in company with G. E. Grant and inspected the school. We found the school under the instruction of C. A. Storer, a very competent teacher. Upon investigation we found he was not following the course of study, in fact, did not know of its existence, the pupils with one or two exceptions were studying common school studies. We learned, also, that nearly if not all of the pupils had entered school without being given an examination by a Superintendent as the law required. Our first duty was to make the school a legal school as soon as possible. Within a day or so we gave the entire school a written examination. Our next duty was to prepare a course of study which we did and which met the approval of Superintendent Stetson. We then classified the school as best we could. Upon our new State Superintendent taking the oath of office a new era in High school work was launched forth, and our school was listed as a sub-standard. This in no way cut us off from our State stipend but under certain conditions would cause us to pay tuitions of pupils attending secondary schools out of town. Now, the question is will we maintain a sub-standard school on the amount we have usually appropriated and pay tuitions to other schools, or will we raise three or four hundred more and maintain a standard school.

In order to maintain a standard school we will have to raise sufficient means to employ a Principal and an assistant. Furnish a Laboratory equipment and revise our course of study somewhat. We must look the situation square in the face. We have an elegant school building centrally located with modern conveniences and a class of about 40 bright young men and young ladies, can we as men afford to cut them off with merely a common school education, as that is all a portion of them would have as they are not able to stand the expense of going away to school even if their tuition were paid, that is a small part of the expense. Even should they all be able to go away how much better it would be to have them with us, that we may know where they are, know the company they keep, in sickness have them where we can care for them. Let us keep our boys and girls at home.

Such a school here would be of great value to our town both socially and financially. It would tend to bring in pupils from outside towns and their tuitions would be of great assistance. If we do not vote to maintain the school, then we will be obligated to pay tuitions to other schools. The near-by schools have taken advantage of the law and advanced their tuitions to $30.00 per year. Say our 40 pupils would go, that would mean $1,200.00, less $250.00 received from State. We can maintain a standard school for one-half that amount. It will cost you but little and will be of inestimable value to our boys and girls.

Our present teacher is a Christian gentleman, a graduate of Boston University, and of Harvard University, has had years of experience in Boston High, Providence High and several other High schools, is thoroughly prepared for his work, is an excellent teacher in every respect.

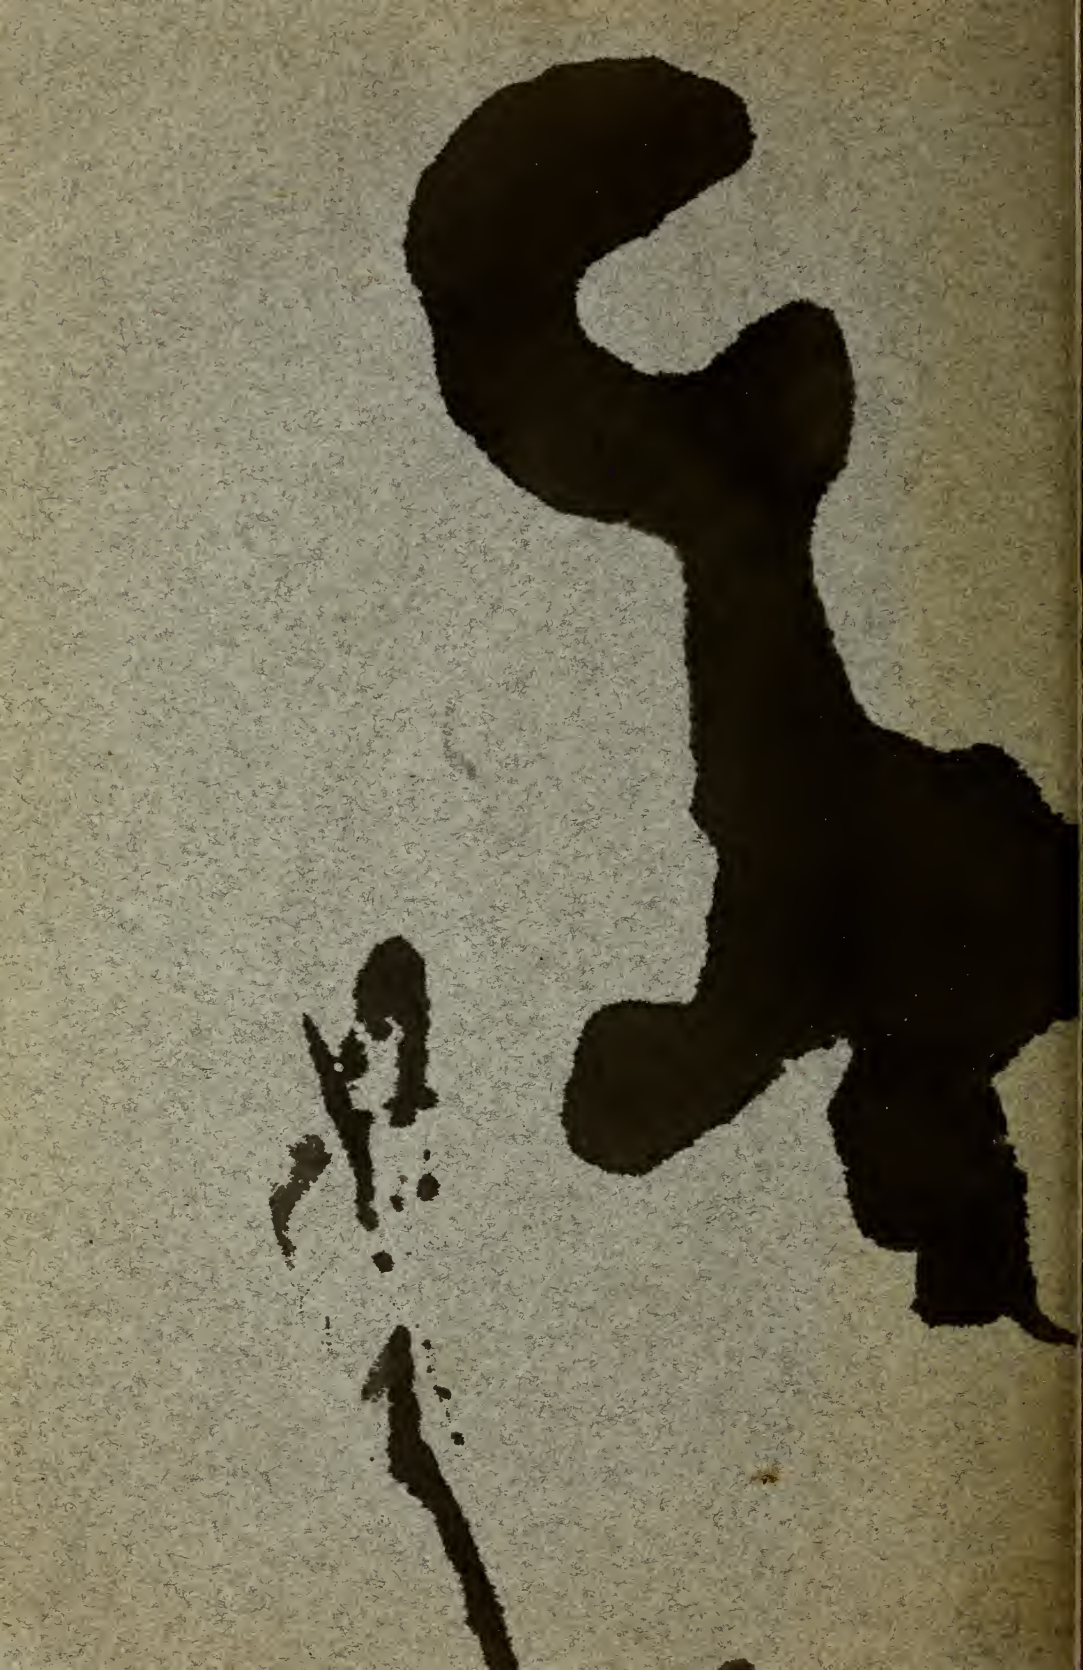

Men of Unity, when you meet at the Town House on town meeting day, don't shirk your duty, but stand up like men, good American citizens that you are, and vote to maintain a Standard High School in Unity, and your children will rise up and call you blessed and God will surely bless you.

Respectfully submitted,

D. V. ROLLINS, Superintendent of Schools.

Report of Superintendent of Schools.

To the Citizens of Unity:—

In reporting to you the condition of our schools and advancement made, for the year just closed, I will endeavor to deal with facts and conditions as I have found them.

The work in the various schools has not been altogether satisfactory, i. e., it has not been up to my ideal. However some very good work has been done and much accomplished. I find in the schools where the grade work has been closely followed, the best results have been obtained.

We have tried to expend the school moneys as judiciously as possible, and think we have succeeded—with possibly one or two exceptions. Sometimes we are deceived in a teacher. It cannot always be avoided, but where we have made mistakes, we have tried to rectify them. These mistakes teach us we should be very careful both in the selection of teachers and text books. From past experience in school work, I should, as a rule, prefer Normal trained teachers, even though we cut our school year to 24 weeks. Teaching is a profession, and should be considered as such—not to be done in a haphazard manner, as well one way as another, but should be carried on in a systematic way, and all details carefully considered. Normal teachers are especially trained for the profession of teaching. “The best is always the cheapest.”

Reading, Grammar and Arithmetic should be considered as major studies, and are the chief essentials of an English education.

That we have but very few good readers is a fact that cannot be disputed. During the year we have laid special stress upon this subject; we have been handicapped, however, in not having complete sets of supplementary readers. Pupils, when they have read through a reader two or three times, are apt to repeat from memory instead of reading. Instead of advancing them to a reader of higher grade, they should have another text book of same grade, perhaps two. Some of our city schools have four complete sets of readers.

Oral reading has been neglected to a great extent and we should see to it that our pupils have better instruction along this line.

Another item I wish to speak of, and in which pupils, teachers and parents are equally to blame, and that is, "the crowding process," or the passing from one step to another; from one text book to another—getting over the ground as rapidly as possible without being thorough in anything. I would advise, go slow, be thorough.

The attendance for the year, in some cases, has been too irregular to permit of good work. The view held by some parents, that they have the right to control the school attendance of their children, is in open conflict with the position taken by the State, which assumes that the education of its children is essential to its perpetuity, as it is to their welfare, is impregnable. The law, establishing this position and making it obligatory upon parents to see that their children attend to education as the chief business of youth, is so clear that there can be no doubt of its meaning and intention.

The attendance, during the winter term, could not be controlled owing to the epidemic of measles, mumps, chickenpox, etc. This epidemic might have been controlled if the early cases had been quarantined.

We have maintained 31 weeks of school during the year. In some of our schools much progress has been made of a substantial nature. The work of the last term has been more thorough than the previous terms.

In some schools much interest has been manifested by parents, while in all the schools there seems to be more of an interest manifested than for sometime past. When we become fully awake to the great importance of educating our youth, and become more conversant with the best methods employed to that end, we will have better schools, better scholars, and better society.

Three of our schools have failed to maintain the average attendance required by law, for the past year, and therefore stand suspended, unless the town votes to instruct its S. S. Committee to continue them. The schools in question are the Kelley, North and Jones. I would recommend the continuance of these schools, with perhaps the exception of one, which might be consolidated with another school.

TEXT BOOKS.

We were forced to overdraw our text book fund to some extent, the most of the appropriation being used in the High school. The books, being new and well bound, should last for a long time. We have instructed teachers and pupils as to the proper care of all books. All books are numbered and accounted for. We should have another complete set of readers 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th.

Our spellers are all very old and must be replaced by a new and more modern set.

Our U. S. Histories are altogether too "heavy" for 7th and 8th grade work, and should be exchanged for an edition that can be more easily comprehended.

A few physiologies should be purchased for work of 9th grade.

The expenditure for High school text books will be comparatively small.

I should suggest an appropriation of $100.00 for this purpose.

TRANSPORTATION.

Our transportation bills can be and should be cut down next year.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The Village High school is a necessity, because by far the greater part of the students must secure their secondary education at home, or nowhere, and because the existence of this school promotes a greater interest in the work of the elementary schools and leads to a higher standard of work there, especially in the Grammar grades.

Parents, who cannot be brought to feel themselves able or to become willing to send their children to a distant and expensive secondary school, will usually permit them to attend the home school, and the majority of the children when they enter High school are too young to be sent away from home and parental care.

Our schools, which opened in September under a standard grade course of study, has been to the present time a success in every particular, with an attendance of 25 pupils, most all of whom have entered into the work with enthusiasm and have settled down to the business of obtaining an education.

We have been very fortunate in securing the services of a teacher with high scholaristic attainments, coupled with years of experience in teaching in schools of highest grade, such as Prof. Russell, a man who is universally respected by all who know him, a man of high ideals, a worker in the school. I say we have been fortunate in securing his services, and we should make an effort to have him continue during the next year.

We have our Laboratory equipments installed; our text books purchased; a class of eleven boys and fourteen girls, ten of which are pursuing the second year's work. A class of 14 will be ready to enter the first of the school year.

In order to comply with the law, it will be necessary to employ an assistant teacher next year. This will call for an additional appropriation of about $250.00.

There is a bill before the State Legislature at this writing, which, if it passes, and the indications are it will, the State will re-imburse towns maintaining schools of standard grade, to the amount of $500.00 instead of $250.00 as the law is now. This would relieve the town of raising the extra $250.00. therefore by voting the same amount that was voted last year, we could maintain the school with our present teacher, and have as the law requires, an assistant teacher.

If the school is not maintained, the town will be obliged to pay tuition on all pupils going to out of town schools. Taking our 25 pupils and the 14 to come in, with the three who are attending outside schools, we would be obliged to pay about $1,260.00, being re-imbursed by the State to the amount of $250.00, would still leave us a bill to pay of $1,010.00.

Looking at the matter from all sides, it will be cheaper to vote the required amount and maintain our own school. We have a finely furnished schoolroom, centrally located, equipped with a Laboratory and text books, and a class of as bright boys and girls as you will find in any town.

The boys of the school dug and stoned up a well on the school grounds last fall, something that has been needed for years. The boys deserve much credit for their work.

I am heartily in favor of the article relating to the uniting of the towns of Troy, Unity and Albion, in forming a District, for the purpose of employing a Superintendent of Schools.

The advantages of such an union are many, among which are, He must give his whole time to superintendency, thereby giving the towns four or five times the amount of service, at about the same expense to the town as under local superintendency—in other words, better and more service for the same expense. Up to this time, 107 towns of Maine have united and many more will do so this year. If we would keep abreast with the times, vote to unite.

I wish to thank all who have assisted me in the work of the past year, by kindly suggestions and encouragement, and especially do I thank the members of the school committee for their support at all times. Wishing the town a prosperous year, I am

Very respectfully,

D. V. ROLLINS,
Superintendent of Schools.
